SITUATION WANTED—By young man desirous of learning some wholesale line; no cierical work; mean business. Answer J E, care Bea.

AMY'S PLAN.

Marjory Bodwell, 427 North Eighth street, Beatrice. Neb.; 12 years old; Eighth grade; teacher, Miss Liddicott, Central school; father, E. J. Bodwell. KITCHEN and bedroom for housekeep-ing; modern. - Dodge St.

Amy is a girl of 15 years who works in one of the large stores of Omaha. She supports not only herself but also her aged mother, who is a cripple. Amy's father died when she was but 8 years old, and she has worked ever since trying to pay for their home. In the least year she has paid for it, and she is very proud to think it is here.

One evening after a hard day's work Amy went home and found three bills awaiting her. She knew she had not a large enough amount of money to pay them, so she and her mother set to work to devise a plan which would enable them to earn some.

"Why not have me knit mittens and stockings and make rag carpets for you to sell in the evening," said the old lady. "I would not allow that, mother, but you know we do not need this whole ouse; we can rent out those two rooms upstairs, and they are worth quite a sum of money a month. "I never thought of that, Amy, girl. We can have our furniture moved out tomorrow and put an ad in the Omaha Sunday Bee. The room where a stove may be put up is fine for a kitchen, and the other will make a good bedroom. I know we will get along well after our new neigh-

250 HULLY GEE. LONG SPEECHES FOR THE NEWSBOYS' PICNIC

Be Made by Four Orators at Manawa. A unique contest has been arrangedaccidentally-for the newsboys' picnic at Manawa Wednesday. This is a contest between the attractiveness of the lake as a "swimming hole" on the one hand, and the eloquence of Judge Estelle, Rev. James W. Stenson, Rabbi Louis Bernstein and Rev. G. A. Beecher on the other. It is announced that these four will make addresses to the newsles after the paper vendors have had a swim. One can imagine the following dialogue: "Come on out. There's going to be speeches." "Aw, fergit the talk. The water's fine." by the person to whom it is addressed. The day's program does not depend in entirety, however, on plans to be good, for DR. JOHNSTON PLEASED, BUT

TRAVELING MEN MUST QUIT USE OF FIGTITIOUS NAMES

Hotel Mail Rules Will Stop Getting Letters Sent Under Deceptive Address.

A set of rules for the protection of all mail handled at the hotels has just been published by the local postoffice and adopted by the proprietors of the hotels of Omaha. Copies of the rules have been posted in the lobbies of all the hotels. Under these rules no mail can be received at a hotel by any person assuming a fictitious name. For a long time it has been customary for some traveling men to have letters directed to them under an assumed name, the reasons for doing so being various. Hereafter hotel men will forward all such mail to the postoffice, where it will be destroyed. Rule No. 1 of the new set calls for the mmediate stamping of all mail by the Orations on How to Be Good Will hotels as soon as it is received by them. The date and time of arrival at the hotel will be placed on each piece of mail.

Any mall that lies in the hotels for five or ten days will be sent to the postoffice or returned to the writer immediately upon the expiration of that time limit. No hotel will receive mail for people who are not guests. Any mail for menguests will be returned to the central postoffice. Only clerks and proprietors of the hotels will be allowed to handle and look over the mail. There will be no more 'Let me see the N's." It will have to be, "Please look over the N's for me." For registered mail matter a place in every hotel safe will be provided. As soon as the mail of this character is received at the office it will be deposited in the safe and kept there until called for you need to do is to use your imagination and your brain.

If you are below the second year in High School, The Omaha Bee wants you to write a story for publication. To the seven boys and girls who write the best stories each week we will give the following prizes:

Boys and

Read

DOLLARS

Make up your mind now that one of these prizes is going to be yours. Get your parents or friends to help you select the plot, but the composition must be all your own work.

STORIES

DOLLARS STORIES

DOLLARS The plot of your story must be based on a want ad that appeared in The STORIES Bee. This may sound a little difficult, but it isn't. Scores of plots for romances, comedies and tragedies are to be discovered in Bee Want Ads every day. All
